WHAT DOES A MATTY BOVAN DRESS SOUND LIKE?

Recent Woolmark Prize winner Matty Bovan has got together with musician Derek Piotr, to create a one-off dress forged from deadstock Liberty prints and “a folk-woven pop mutation audio knit” playlist, which amalgamates the duo’s mishmash, strangely shaped body of work. On describing why Bovan’s fashion chimes with his own ethos, Piotr says “Matty’s work can be worn by anyone, but the moment they wear it they become a higher form of themselves, their own inner phoenix rising from society’s dull ash”.
